Dear Prof. Rampelotto:

As to your present invitation to join the Editorial Board of Life, I would be ready to accept and to give my support in launching and making known this new Journal in the course of the next few years.

I take this occasion to raise a question regarding the name "Life". This term is also used for other publications; for example, I am actually also a member of the editorial board of IUBMB Life (IUBMB stands for International Union of Biochemistry and Molecular Biology). You are probably aware of this.

With my best regards,

Werner Arber

PS: Indeed, we now intensively work on finishing our contribution to the special issue of Life on "Horizontal Gene Transfer". We intend to submit our manuscript next week.
